Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

Claim 5 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention. The means by which the single idler is movably mounted has not been adequately disclosed.

Specification

The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: The term "switch" used to depict element 3 is not consistent with the true definition of this term.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claims 1-5 are objected to because of the following informalities: The term "switch" used to depict element 3 is not consistent with the true definition of this term.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1,2 and 4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Rademacher in view of McLean.

Art Unit: 3634

Rademacher discloses a driver 8 and guide rollers 20, column 5, lines 48-51. What is not shown are the rollers being in contact with the driver. However, McLean discloses rollers 2,3, spring biased against roller 1, left column, lines 30-33. In view of this teaching, it would have been obvious to provide a spring bias of the rollers 20 in Rademacher against the driver so as to ensure contact of the driver with the cord.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claim 3 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
